Word reached the city last night from Gallup saying that the Canon City was in darkness as a result of a part of the electric light building falling down, putting the plant out of commission. However, the machinery was not injured, the messenger says, and the plant will be in operation again within a few days.

L. L. Hibbard, general superintendent of the Santa Fe coast lines, is on the Albuquerque end of the coast lines on one of his periodical trips of inspection. Mr. Hibbard says that things are moving along swimmingly on the coast lines in every department. California tourist travel is holding up well and the freight department has about all it can do. Track improvements are being made all along the line.

Patrons of the Deming branch of the Santa Fe cannot help but notice a change for the better in the Pullman service between that place and this, which is the result of some good work being done by P. H. Rhodes, superintendent of the Pullman service on the Santa Fe, whose headquarters were recently moved to this city. The "Tamarac," a new car, has replaced the old "Hesperus," which has done long service on the Deming branch.

The Congregational Sunday school will have its Christmas tree on Friday evening, to commence promptly at 7 o'clock. Services will be held in the main auditorium on Sunday morning and evening for the last time before the completion of the extensive repairs now being made. A very fine musical program is now being prepared for the morning service under the direction of Mr. Washburn. A Christmas concert under the auspices of the Sunday school will be given on Sunday evening.
